Who Are We?

LanceBotics Team 200 is an extracurricular VEX robotics team of Leaside High School students, teachers and alumni. The four teams (200C, 200G, 200H and 200X) that make up LanceBotics, compete against other teams on a global and local scale. These are competitions of skill and engineering in which robots perform different tasks organized by VEX Robotics.

What is VEX?

VEX Robotics give students an exciting, hands-on platform to learn about career opportunities in the STEM fields. Beyond science and engineering principles, the VEX Robotics project encourages teamwork, leadership and problem solving skills. Organizing local and international competitions, VEX Robotics teams hail from more than 60 different countries worldwide and involving more than a million students!
